OLD TIME HOUSE
BUILT TO STAY

OLD BUILDING WITH FOUR FLOORS LAID ONE ON THE OTHER.

A force of men under Contractor Hexem on Wednesday commenced the work of repairing the old University Club building in Hayes park which will be put in first-class condition and again occupied by the club. The oldest part of the clubhouse which has been added to from time to time, was at first a log cabin, probably one of the oldest buildings in Ely. In tearing up the flooring preparatory to putting down new material, the carpenters first removed a layer of tongue and grooved flooring put down a few years ago. They then encountered a floor made of 1 1/2 by 12-inch plank. Removing this, they then took up a floor made of "punchboards," or split logs, and on taking this up they found still a fourth floor of the same material. Ely Record.

HORSES DEAD FROM EXPOSURE AT WASHOE LAKE

An unusual occurrence of four horses being frozen in the ice at Washoe Lake, caused much comment and we learn further that the ice surrounding the unfortunate beasts was from five to six inches thick. The rescuing party was obliged to cut a channel through the ice away from the horses. One of the animals was led out, but the others fell down as they started to walk and were dragged out. Two of the horses died immediately, and the third is now being treated, but with little hopes of saving it. When the animals had eaten all the tules within reach they chewed the manes off each other down to the flesh, in efforts to appease their starvation. That the horses should have been turned out during the terrible storms of two weeks ago is beyond understanding. Virginia Chronicle.

KEANE WONDER FORECLOSED IN INYO COUNTY

JUDGE DEHY ORDERS FORECLOSURE AGAINST MINE TO BE ENFORCED

Judge Dehy's court at Independence was busy Monday with matters involving the Keane Wonder property. The case was Earle Clemens vs. Wellington Greig, Jr., trustee under a trust deed from the Keane Wonder company to the Frances-Mohawk Milling & Leasing company, and Benjamin H. Tatum. Receiver Wildes, representing the State Bank & Trust company, filed a cross complaint. It was sought to foreclose the trust deed, and that the State Bank & Trust company be subrogated to the Frances-Mohawk claim. The Wildes and Frances-Mohawk interests were settled by stipulation.

Last Monday Judge Dehy rendered a judgment foreclosing the trust deed, the decree being for $70,582.63 in favor of Tatum and $153,585.92 in favor of the interests represented by Wildes. The object of Clemens was to enjoin enforcement of the trust deed. A supplementary decree of sale is to be made later if the judgment be not paid. The litigation arose from the State Bank & Trust company failure and the financial juggling then undertaken. The property threatened with sale is the Keane Wonder mines, mill and other property in the Funeral range, this county. Inyo Register.

BOYS TREATED TO CURE THE CIGARETTE HABIT

CINCINNATI, Feb. 4.—This city began officially the treatment of pupils of public schools addicted to the cigarette habit. About two dozen boys, ranging in age from 11 years upward, were operated on by the chief health officer and his assistants. The treatment, which, it is claimed, is an effectual cure for the craving, consists in swabbing the mouth and throat with a very weak solution of nitrate of silver. A number of men who had heard that the treatment was to be given free at the city health office, submitted to the swabbing process.

BUTLER THEATER

This evening's program at the Butler will be one of unusual interest, as follows: Pathe weekly of current events showing scenes from all over the world; "The Schmeres," a Viagraph comedy with John Bunny, and a Selig two-reel drama, "The Quality of Mercy." Two young men from the city, visiting a farm, find Emma Leighton, niece of the farmer, very lonesome and discontented. Unfortunately, Harvey Manning is a clubman and not of the best type. Paul Mason, his friend, knows this, and remonstrates with him for trifling with the affections of an innocent girl. Harvey returns to the city and succeeds in inducing Emma to go to his home with him. Here, in order to allay her scruples, he asks Paul to arrange to have someone resembling a preacher perform a sham marriage ceremony. Paul, however, has secured a genuine preacher, unbeknown to Harvey. Shortly afterward, Harvey notifies her that she is not his wife and is no longer wanted. At the same time she learns that both he and Paul have been killed in an automobile accident. Returning to the country with her baby, she finds herself ostracized. Dr. Hartley, her old sweetheart, stands by her and asks her to marry him. After a while she consents, and she is astonished to find the minister called to marry them the same who had performed the former ceremony. Thus is lifted the blight on the birthright of her son. Tomorrow, "Betty in the Lion's Den." Saturday, "Why Girls Leave Home."
